

LEAVE POLICY

1st April 2026

Policy Objective

At Datopic Technologies, we believe that employee well-being, professional discipline, and operational continuity must work together for sustainable growth. A well-defined leave and attendance policy ensures clarity, fairness, accountability, and compliance while supporting both employee needs and business commitments.

This policy establishes the framework for attendance expectations, leave eligibility, leave approvals, statutory compliance, and work flexibility. It is designed to remove ambiguity and ensure that every employee clearly understands how leave balances are calculated, when leave can be availed, and how exceptions are handled.

The policy aims to:

- create a transparent and fair leave management system
- maintain uninterrupted project delivery and business continuity
- support employees during personal, medical, and family needs
- ensure compliance with applicable Indian labor laws
- prevent misuse of leave systems
- standardize leave approvals through PeoplePulse HRMS
- align attendance records with payroll and performance reviews

All employees, managers, and HR personnel are expected to follow this policy strictly.

Scope of Applicability

This policy applies to all eligible personnel engaged with Datopic Technologies, including:

- Confirmed Employees
- Employees on Probation
- Project Trainees
- Contractual Employees (where applicable)
- Consultants and retained professionals (if specifically covered under contract)

This policy does not automatically apply to:

- Interns
- Apprentices
- Temporary resources
- Freelancers

unless specifically mentioned in their engagement terms.

The leave cycle shall follow the company financial year:

1st April to 31st March

All leave accruals, resets, carry-forwards, encashments, and lapse calculations shall be governed within this annual cycle.

Definitions

Employee

Any individual formally engaged with Datopic Technologies under an employment agreement, offer letter, consulting contract, or approved project assignment covered under this policy.

Business Day

The standard operational working day of the company.

Working Days

Monday to Friday

Standard Office Hours

10:00 AM to 7:00 PM IST

Flexible work hours may be allowed only with Reporting Manager approval and if business continuity is not affected.

Example

If an employee starts work at 11:00 AM due to personal reasons, prior manager approval is mandatory.

Casual Leave (CL)

Casual Leave is granted for urgent, short-term, and unforeseen personal requirements.

Example

- family emergency
- urgent personal work
- immediate domestic issue
- short religious function
- personal appointment

Earned Leave (EL)

Earned Leave is long-duration planned leave earned through service continuity and attendance.

Example

- vacation planning
- family travel
- planned personal commitments
- recovery after surgery
- extended family functions

Leave Without Pay (LWP)

LWP applies when no paid leave balance is available or when leave exceeds policy conditions.

Example

If an employee has exhausted CL and cannot use EL due to reserve balance rules, the leave becomes LWP.

Work From Home (WFH)

A temporary remote work arrangement approved only for specific and justified business or personal situations.

Example

- mild illness but fit to work

- urgent family requirement
- unavoidable home maintenance emergency
- business continuity requirement

On Duty (OD)

Official work performed outside office premises where attendance is treated as present.

Example

- client meeting
- conference attendance
- official business travel
- partner office visit

Attendance Guidelines

Attendance Marking

Every employee must mark attendance daily using:

- HRMS / PeoplePulse
- Any officially approved attendance system

Failure to record attendance may result in the day being treated as absent unless corrected with valid justification.

Example

If an employee forgets to mark attendance while coming to office, they must immediately inform HR and manager for correction.

Repeated negligence may be treated as absence.

Working Hours Requirement

Employees are expected to maintain:

Minimum 40 Working Hours Per Week

This includes:

- assigned project work
- meetings
- collaboration
- internal coordination
- client commitments
- delivery responsibilities

Example

Even if attendance is marked daily, failure to actively participate in work responsibilities may still be treated as performance non-compliance.

Unauthorized or Unreported Absence

Absence without approval or prior notification is treated as unauthorized absence.

Adjustment order:

1. CL
2. EL (if policy allows)
3. LWP

Example

If an employee does not report to office on Monday and gives no information:

- HR checks available CL first
- if CL unavailable → EL check
- if EL restricted → LWP applied

Repeated violations may trigger disciplinary review.

Leave Categories

This section defines all leave categories applicable within Datopic Technologies. Employees are expected to use leave responsibly, plan in advance wherever possible, and ensure business continuity before proceeding on leave.

All leave requests shall be routed through PeoplePulse HRMS and require formal approval from the Reporting Manager and/or HR as applicable.

Leave misuse, repeated unplanned absence, false declarations, or unauthorized absence may lead to salary deductions, disciplinary review, or impact on performance appraisals.

Casual Leave (CL)

Purpose of Casual Leave

Casual Leave is intended for short-term, urgent, and unforeseen personal requirements that require the employee to be away from work for a limited duration. It is not intended for vacations, long travel plans, or extended personal breaks. Typical use cases include:

- urgent family matters
- immediate personal work
- sudden medical consultation
- religious or social functions
- domestic emergencies
- short-duration personal commitments

Annual Entitlement

12 Days Per Financial Year

Applicable to:

- Confirmed Employees
- Employees on Probation

For employees joining during the financial year, CL shall be credited on a pro-rata basis depending on the date of joining.

Monthly CL Allocation

Casual Leave shall be allocated progressively on a monthly basis as:

1 Casual Leave (CL) Per Month

This means employees do not receive all 12 CL at the beginning of the financial year.

Instead, CL is credited month-wise to ensure:

- attendance discipline
- fair utilization
- controlled leave planning
- prevention of excessive leave usage in initial months

Unused CL may remain available for use within the same financial year, subject to policy conditions.

Monthly Allocation Examples

Example 1

Employee joins on: 1st April

CL shall be credited progressively every month and the employee may accumulate up to 12 CL by year-end.

Example 2

Employee joins on: 1st October

The employee will not receive 12 CL immediately.

Only proportionate monthly CL shall be credited for the remaining financial year.

Approximate eligibility may be around 6 CL depending on joining month.

Example 3

Employee joins on: 15th January

Only the remaining applicable monthly CL shall be credited for that financial year.

Full annual CL entitlement will apply from the next financial year.

CL Usage Rule

Employees may avail CL only if:

- sufficient CL balance is available
- prior approval is obtained
- business continuity is maintained

The policy does NOT mean:

Only 1 CL can be taken in a month

The correct rule is:

1 CL is credited every month

and

More Than 2 Consecutive CL Cannot Be Availed

This provides flexibility while maintaining attendance discipline.

CL Usage Examples

Example 1 — Separate CL Usage

Employee takes:

- 1 CL on 3rd April
- another 1 CL on 24th April

This may be approved if:

- CL balance exists
- Reporting Manager approves
- project continuity is maintained

This is allowed because these are separate leave days and not consecutive CL.

Example 2 — Two Consecutive Days

Employee applies for:

Monday + Tuesday

Both days may be adjusted as CL and this is valid policy usage.

Example 3 — Three Consecutive Days

Employee applies for:

Monday + Tuesday + Wednesday

Treatment:

- Monday → CL
- Tuesday → CL
- Wednesday → EL (if available)

otherwise

- Wednesday → LWP

because more than 2 consecutive CL is not allowed.

Half-Day Casual Leave

Half-day CL may be permitted for genuine short-duration requirements such as:

- medical appointments
- personal documentation work
- urgent family obligations
- unavoidable short absence
- school visits
- urgent home maintenance
- important personal verification visits

Half-day leave requires:

- prior approval from Reporting Manager
- proper entry in HRMS / PeoplePulse

Repeated half-day leave patterns without valid justification may be reviewed by HR and management.

Working Hours Impact on CL

Attendance hours directly impact leave deduction.

The standard expected productive working duration for a full working day shall be:

8 Working Hours Per Day

(excluding lunch break and approved non-working intervals)

Full-Day Leave Deduction Rule

If an employee works:

Less Than 3.5 Hours in a Day

it shall be treated as:

Full Day Leave

and:

→ 1 Full CL shall be deducted

If CL is unavailable:

→ EL (if eligible)

or

→ LWP shall apply

Example — Full Day Deduction

Employee logs in at:

11:00 AM

and logs out at:

1:30 PM

Total working hours:

2.5 Hours

This shall be treated as:

Full Day Leave

and 1 full CL shall be deducted.

Half-Day Leave Deduction Rule

If an employee works:

More Than 3.5 Hours but Less Than 7 Hours

it shall be treated as:

Half-Day Leave

and:

→ 0.5 CL shall be deducted

If CL balance is unavailable:

→ EL (if eligible)

or

→ LWP may apply

Example — Half Day Deduction

Employee works from:

10:00 AM to 3:00 PM

Total working hours:

5 Hours

This shall be treated as:

Half-Day Leave

and 0.5 CL shall be deducted.

Full Working Day Rule

If an employee works:

7 Hours or More

it shall be treated as:

Full Working Day

and no leave deduction shall apply.

Example — Normal Working Day

Employee works for:

7.5 Hours

This shall be treated as a normal working day with no leave deduction.

Prior Approval Exception

If reduced working hours are due to:

- approved business meetings outside office
- approved On Duty movement
- approved medical exception
- approved manager exception
- approved WFH arrangement
- official client visits

then leave deduction may not apply.

Example — Approved Exception

Employee leaves office after 4 hours for an approved client meeting.

This may be marked as:

On Duty

instead of half-day leave.

CL Cannot Be Carried Forward

Unused CL:

- cannot be transferred to the next financial year
- cannot be encashed
- automatically lapses at financial year-end

This is because CL is treated as an immediate-use leave category and not as an accumulation-based leave like EL.

Example

Employee has: 5 Unused CL

as on 31st March.

These 5 CL shall automatically lapse and cannot be:

- carried forward
- converted into salary
- transferred into EL

Consecutive Leave Rule

For leave applications exceeding:

More Than 2 Consecutive Working Days

the leave shall be treated as follows:

First 2 Working Days

→ Casual Leave (CL)

Remaining Days

→ Earned Leave (EL), only if available after maintaining the mandatory EL reserve balance

If EL is not available or cannot be used:

→ Leave Without Pay (LWP)

This ensures CL remains a short-term emergency leave and is not misused for long-duration leave.

Consecutive Leave Examples

Example 1 — 4 Days Leave

Employee applies for leave from:

Monday to Thursday

Treatment:

- Monday → CL
- Tuesday → CL
- Wednesday → EL
- Thursday → EL

provided EL is available beyond reserve threshold.

Example 2 — 5 Days Leave Without EL

Employee applies for:

Monday to Friday

but EL balance is unavailable.

Treatment:

- Monday → CL
- Tuesday → CL
- Wednesday → LWP
- Thursday → LWP
- Friday → LWP

Salary deduction shall apply.

Example 3 — Long Festival Leave

Employee wants 6 days leave for hometown travel during Diwali.

Only first 2 days shall be CL.

Remaining days must be EL or LWP.

CL cannot be used for all 6 days.

CL During Notice Period

During notice period:

- CL approvals shall be restricted
- business continuity and knowledge transfer shall be prioritized
- management approval becomes mandatory

Frequent leave during notice period may lead to:

- notice period extension
- salary recovery
- delayed release formalities

Employees are expected to prioritize smooth handover and project transition.

Notice Period Examples

Example 1

Employee resigns and applies for 7 days leave during final month.

Approval may be restricted due to pending handover responsibilities.

Example 2

Employee takes repeated unapproved leave during notice period.

Management may extend the notice period accordingly.

CL During Exit / Full & Final Settlement

If an employee exits after consuming more CL than their pro-rata eligibility, the excess CL shall be recovered from salary during Full & Final Settlement.

Exit Examples

Example 1

Employee resigns in:

July

and has already used:

8 CL

Eligible CL till July:

Approximately 4 CL

Excess CL:

4 Days

These shall be salary-adjusted.

Example 2

Employee resigns in November and has used only 5 CL.

Eligible CL till November = approximately 8

No recovery shall apply.

Final Clarification

The policy does NOT mean:

Only 1 CL can be taken in one month

The correct rule is:

1 CL is credited per month

and

More Than 2 Consecutive CL Cannot Be Availed

This ensures both employee flexibility and operational discipline.

Earned Leave (EL) / Privilege Leave

Purpose of Earned Leave

Earned Leave is meant for planned, longer-duration leave requirements and reflects leave earned through continuity of service and attendance discipline.

EL is intended for:

- family vacations
- long personal travel
- marriage functions
- post-medical recovery
- family responsibilities
- planned personal commitments
- extended break requirements

Unlike CL, EL must be planned and applied in advance.

EL Entitlement Rule

EL shall be granted as per:

1.5 Earned Leave for Every 20 Working Days

Considering approximately 240 working days annually:

Standard EL Accrual = 18 EL Per Year

This is subject to:

- attendance compliance
- actual working days completed
- leave behavior
- LWP impact

EL is earned, not automatically granted.

EL Credit Mechanism

EL is credited only after completion of eligible working days.

It is not pre-loaded at the start of the year.

For every completed:

20 Working Days

the employee earns:

1.5 EL

HR shall verify attendance records before EL is reflected in PeoplePulse.

EL Credit Example

Employee completes:

60 working days

EL credited:

4.5 EL

Calculation:

$$60 \div 20 = 4.5$$

Mandatory EL Reserve Buffer

To ensure compliance readiness and year-end stability:

Minimum 18 EL Must Always Be Maintained

Employees cannot consume EL below this threshold.

Only EL accumulated above 18 is considered usable leave.

This protects statutory compliance and prevents zero-balance situations.

EL Reserve Example

Employee has:

21 EL Total

Usable EL:

Only 3 EL

Remaining: 18 EL must remain untouched

Important Practical Understanding

Although annual EL accrual may be 18 per year, carry-forward from previous years allows the employee to build the reserve threshold over time.

This is why the reserve requirement remains valid.

New employees may initially rely more on CL and planned leave management.

EL Usage Rules

EL must be:

- planned in advance
- approved before leave
- aligned with project continuity
- properly handed over before absence

EL is not meant for:

- same-day absence
- emergency leave
- repeated short-notice absence

Such cases should normally fall under CL.

EL for Long Duration Leave

For EL exceeding:

5 Consecutive Working Days

employees must:

- submit advance request
- complete work handover
- inform project stakeholders
- obtain Reporting Manager approval
- obtain HR approval where required

This is important for client delivery continuity.

EL During Probation

Employees on probation continue to accrue EL based on attendance.

However:

EL Usage is Not Allowed Until Confirmation

unless specifically approved by Management.

This prevents probation misuse and ensures service continuity.

Example

Employee completes 4 months' probation and has accrued 2 EL.

These EL remain visible in records but cannot be used unless:

- employee is confirmed
- or
- management approves exception

EL Carry Forward

Unused EL may be carried forward to the next financial year subject to statutory and company limits.

Carry-forward shall be reviewed annually by HR.

The company may define a maximum accumulation cap where required.

Year-End EL Encashment

At year-end:

Minimum 18 EL Must Be Retained

Only EL above this balance may be considered for encashment.

Encashment is subject to:

- management approval
- payroll processing timelines
- statutory compliance

Encashment Example

Employee Total EL: 26 EL

Mandatory Reserve: 18 EL

Eligible for Encashment: 8 EL

EL During Notice Period

EL approval during notice period is highly restricted.

Priority remains:

- handover completion
- transition planning
- business continuity

Unused EL, if eligible, may be settled during F&F as per policy.

Leave Without Pay (LWP)

Purpose

Leave Without Pay applies when:

- no CL is available
- EL cannot be used
- leave exceeds policy rules
- management approves exceptional absence

LWP is not a right.

It is an exception-based approval.

Salary Treatment

LWP directly impacts salary.

Salary deduction shall be calculated on a pro-rata basis as per payroll rules.

This deduction is final and cannot be reversed later.

Example

Employee has:

- CL exhausted
- EL below reserve threshold

Employee applies for 2 more leave days

Result:

2 Days LWP

Salary deduction shall apply.

Performance Impact

Repeated LWP may affect:

- probation confirmation
- annual appraisals
- performance ratings
- variable pay

- increment decisions

LWP should therefore be used only when absolutely necessary.

Unauthorized LWP

Absence without approval may automatically be converted into LWP along with disciplinary review.

This includes “silent leave” situations where employees disappear without notice.

Work From Home (WFH)

Policy Position

WFH is not a standard monthly benefit. It is not a granted employee entitlement. It is purely:

Need-Based + Approval-Based

Employees should not assume WFH as a fixed monthly privilege.

Standard Administrative Guideline

As a governance benchmark:

Maximum 2 WFH Per Month may be considered. This does not mean guaranteed approval. Every request is reviewed independently.

WFH Example

Manager may approve 1-day WFH. This does not automatically create entitlement for another WFH day later. Each request is independent.

Non-Approved WFH Example

Employee decides to work from home without approval. This may be treated as:

- CL or LWP

depending on management discretion. Unauthorized WFH is treated as policy violation.

Performance Requirement During WFH

Employees approved for WFH must remain:

- available on calls
- responsive on communication channels
- active in project responsibilities
- fully accountable for deliverables

WFH is work, not leave.

Performance expectations remain unchanged.

On Duty (OD)

Purpose

Official external work is treated as attendance and not leave.

Applicable for:

- client meetings
- official travel
- conferences
- partner discussions
- site visits
- approved off-site work

Example

Employee visits client office for project presentation.

That day shall be marked as:

On Duty

and no leave shall be deducted.

Employees must notify:

- Reporting Manager

- attendance@datopic.com

with prior approval.

Marriage Leave

Entitlement

5 Working Days

Marriage Leave is granted for the employee's own marriage only.

This benefit is available:

Once During Entire Employment

Rules

- applicable only for confirmed employees
- must be applied in advance
- supporting documents required
- cannot be carried forward
- cannot be encashed
- cannot be split across multiple occasions

Example

Employee marriage is scheduled in December.

Employee may apply for:

5 working days Marriage Leave

This leave shall be separate from CL/EL and will not reduce those balances.

Paternity Leave

Entitlement

5 Working Days

Applicable to confirmed male employees upon childbirth of spouse.

Rules

- must be used within 3 months of childbirth
- supporting documents may be required
- non-carry forward
- non-encashable
- only for legal spouse childbirth cases

Example

Child is born in February.

Paternity leave should be availed within the permitted period and properly approved.

Maternity Leave

Entitlement

6 Months (26 Weeks)

as per applicable Indian labor law and Maternity Benefit Act.

Rules

- paid leave as per statutory compliance
- medical documents required
- HR approval mandatory
- pre-delivery and post-delivery structure may apply as per law
- extension beyond statutory period requires management approval

Example

Employee submits maternity leave request with medical documentation.

Leave shall be processed as per law and payroll compliance.

Additional leave beyond statutory entitlement may be treated as LWP.

Special Categories

Probation Employees

Eligible:

- Pro-rated CL

EL accrues but usage restricted.

Project Trainees

Eligible:

1 CL Per Quarter

Example

Trainee joining in April may use 1 CL between April–June.

Unused leave lapses.

No EL allowed.

Company Holidays

Annual holiday calendar shall be issued separately.

Work on holidays requires approval.

Leave Application & Approval Process

To ensure smooth business operations and attendance discipline, all employees are required to follow the official leave application and approval process defined by Datopic Technologies.

All leave requests must be submitted through PeoplePulse / HRMS and approved before the leave is considered valid.

Unauthorized absence, delayed communication, or policy violations may result in leave rejection, Leave Without Pay (LWP), attendance irregularity, or disciplinary action.

Leave Application Process

Employees must:

- apply through PeoplePulse
- inform Reporting Manager
- notify attendance@datopic.com where required
- ensure proper work handover before planned leave
- submit supporting documents wherever applicable
- obtain explicit approval before proceeding on leave

Example

If employee requires leave for marriage:

Application + marriage proof + manager approval required before leave becomes valid.

Leave is Valid Only After

Explicit Approval

No response does not mean approval.

Verbal communication, WhatsApp messages, or informal discussions alone shall not be treated as approved leave unless formally updated and approved in Peoplepulse.

Advance Leave Planning

Employees are expected to apply for leave well in advance, especially for:

- vacations
- hometown travel
- weddings
- planned medical procedures
- long-duration leave

This helps ensure project continuity and proper workload planning.

Backdated Leave Applications

As a standard company policy:

Backdated Leave Applications Shall Not Be Permitted

In genuine emergency situations where prior leave application was not possible, backdated leave may be applied only by the Reporting Supervisor / Manager with proper justification and supporting documents, subject to HR approval.

Example

If an employee requires Marriage Leave:

The following shall be required before leave becomes valid:

- leave application in PeoplePulse
- supporting proof/documentation
- Reporting Manager approval

Leave is Valid Only After

Explicit Approval

No response, verbal discussion, WhatsApp acknowledgment, or assumption shall be treated as leave approval.

Employee Responsibilities

Employees must:

- plan leave responsibly
- avoid misuse
- ensure work handover
- communicate professionally
- remain reachable during critical transitions

Supervisor Responsibilities

Managers must:

- balance employee welfare and business continuity
- review leave fairly
- avoid unnecessary operational disruption
- ensure policy compliance

HR Governance

HR shall:

- monitor leave balances
- ensure payroll alignment
- review policy compliance
- manage PeoplePulse administration
- revise policy when required

Confidentiality & Proprietary Rights Notice

This Leave, Attendance & Work Policy document is the exclusive intellectual property of Datopic Technologies Pvt. Ltd. and is intended strictly for internal organizational use only.

This document contains confidential, proprietary, and business-sensitive information related to the company's internal HR governance framework, employee management practices, compliance standards, and operational policies.

No part of this document may be copied, reproduced, distributed, published, transmitted, disclosed, stored, modified, shared externally, or used for any purpose other than official company business without prior written approval from the authorized management of Datopic Technologies Pvt. Ltd.

Employees, consultants, contractors, and associated personnel who are provided access to this document are required to maintain strict confidentiality and ensure that the contents are not disclosed to any unauthorized person, external entity, competitor, vendor, or third party.

Unauthorized disclosure, misuse, duplication, circulation, or reproduction of this policy document may result in disciplinary action, contractual consequences, legal proceedings, and recovery of damages wherever applicable under company policy and applicable law.

This policy forms part of the company's internal governance, employment compliance structure, and operational framework and must be treated as confidential at all times.

Datopic Technologies Pvt. Ltd. reserves the full right to amend, revise, interpret, update, suspend, or withdraw any provision of this policy at its sole discretion based on business requirements, statutory compliance, management decisions, and organizational needs.

The interpretation of this policy and all related decisions shall remain final and binding with the HR Department and Management of Datopic Technologies Pvt. Ltd.

Final Authority

Final interpretation shall remain with:

HR Department and Datopic Management

whose decision shall be final and binding.

Effective Date

This policy becomes effective from:

1st April 2026

and supersedes previous leave practices.

Approved By

Datopic Technologies Management

